Borja Alvarez de Toledo, Sara Kobylenski, Jim Miller and Kim Pecora Join NH Center for Nonprofits Board

CONCORD, NH: The NH Center for Nonprofits announced that Borja Alvarez de Toledo, Chief Executive Officer of Child and Family Services, Sara Kobylenski, Executive Director of the Upper Valley Haven, Jim Miller, Director of Institutional Research at Granite State College and Kim Pecora, Principal at Nathan Wechsler & Company were recently elected to the Board of Directors.

“We are pleased to add these talented people to the Center’s Board of Directors,” said Kathleen Reardon, Chief Executive Officer of the NH Center for Nonprofits. “They each bring a deep knowledge and commitment to the nonprofit community, as well an understanding of the issues facing our state. Their leadership will be an asset to the organization as we continue our work to elevate the visibility and capacity of the state’s nonprofit sector.”

Alvarez de Toledo joined Child and Family Services in 2013 after more than 25 years working in the human service field. He has a Master’s Degree in Education from Boston University and a Graduate Certificate of Business. He is a seasoned leader with more than 15 years of senior-level nonprofit management experience.

Kobylenski has served as the Executive Director of the Upper Valley Haven since 2009. She has an MSW from the University of Pennsylvania and spent 35 years in child and family services work in the nonprofit domain and five years in state government in Vermont. She has served on multiple nonprofit boards.

Miller has worked at Granite State College since 2002, and has led, advised, or served on staff at nonprofits in higher education, publishing, and membership organizations for the past 21 years. He has a Master’s in Business Administration from Cornell University’s Johnson Graduate School of Management. Miller previously served on the NHCN Board for 10 years, and continued to be involved for the past five years as a member of the Finance Committee and Business Lines Strategy Work Group.

Pecora has been a part of the team at Nathan Wechsler and Company since 2005 specializing in nonprofits, construction and emerging businesses. She has an MBA from SNHU, is a graduate of Leadership Greater Concord and has served on multiple nonprofit boards.

The NH Center for Nonprofits is a statewide nonprofit association dedicated to advancing the impact and visibility of the nonprofit sector and supporting the growth of nonprofits to reach their mission. Its services included leadership development programs, organizational consultation and assessment, online resource sharing and advocacy.
